

Environmental Information Disclosure (EID) for the Electricity Product of NextEra Energy Services New Jersey, LLC

Electricity Supplied from June 1, 2019 to May 31, 2020

Electricity can be generated in a number of ways with different impacts on the environment. The standardized environmental information shown below allows you to compare this electricity product with electricity products offered by other electric suppliers. Below is the default EID Label describing the resources used to generate electricity for customers of NextEra Energy Services New Jersey, LLC .

